I am excited that you are thinking about joining us at UCSB! Our university has been working for years to ensure that our campus is welcoming for students within queer and trans communities. Much of this work can be credited to student activism and advocacy by staff and faculty to make this campus better year after year! The university offers many resources to help LGBTQ+ students thrive during their journey, including the Resource Center for Sexual and Gender Diversity. The RCSGD leads the work that happens across campus to make sure that students of all genders and sexual orientations feel at home and know that they have the skills to achieve their goals. I hope that you will visit the center while touring campus and ask our student staff or one of the professional staff about their experience here. I hope you will see that you too have a place in the vibrant LGBTQ+ community at UCSB!

Pronouns

Beginning in fall 2019, UCSB students will be able to choose their pronouns for class rosters and the online learning environment. This new option for students will pair with UCSB's Preferred Name option to ensure that trans and nonbinary students are being referred to correctly in the classroom by instructors and peers.

Trans Community Resources

UCSB is committed to ensuring that the experiences and needs of transgender and gender expansive students are valued and addressed. Student Health offers a Health Equity Advocate, the Office of the Registrar allows students to input their preferred name, the MultiCultural Center offers a weekly open social and support group, and gender-inclusive restrooms are available throughout campus.

LGBTQ Student Perspectives

Angel Leija

Major: Sociology

Minors: History & LGBTQ Studies

Pronouns: They/them/theirs

Why UCSB? I chose UCSB because the students and atmosphere welcomed me in a way that made me feel accepted and energized to become a better me. I knew that UCSB would be the place where most of my own personal growth would occur due to the academics and, most importantly, the LGBTQ family on campus.

LGBTQ Community I truly believe that the LGBTQ community at UCSB is full of vibrancy and passion for true liberation in all its aspects. By being part of the LGBTQ community, I have been able to find who I am and who I want to be through acknowledging all my intersectional identities and embracing them all as a whole. The LGBTQ community here has made an impact on me which will push me to reach all my goals and aspirations, whether political, social, cultural or economical.

Christine Miyazato

Major: Feminist Studies

Pronouns: She/her/hers

Why UCSB? I chose UCSB for a few reasons, but mainly its closeness to home, the high academic standards, and the inclusiveness I felt that was prominent in the campus culture.

While, like all other colleges, your experience is what you make of it, I truly feel that I wouldn't be the person I am today without coming to this college and discovering more about who I am. By joining several clubs on campus like the queer trans community, and the Nikkei student union for people of Japanese descent, I was able to get more in touch with my intersectional identities and I felt like I belonged on campus.

LGBTQ Community The UCSB LGBTQ+ community is a close-knit community and my second home on campus. There are several queer clubs on campus which are oriented towards specific queer identities.

Hikaru Ezra Mernin

Major: Feminist Studies

Minor: LGBTQ Studies

Pronouns: Ze/hir/they/them

Why UCSB? I chose UCSB partially because of the undergraduate research opportunities offered here, but primarily because of the resources and services offered to queer and disabled students and the community built on campus through student-run organizations. I fell in love with the identity communities on campus.

Involvements at UCSB I am chair of Trans Social Group (TSG) and the Society for Accessible and Safe Spaces (SASS) and am involved with Queers Against Fascism (QAF). I am also employed as Trans Advocacy Coordinator at the Resource Center for Sexual and Gender Diversity.

Joel "Joey" Medina

Major: Pre-Sociology

Pronouns: He/him/his

Why UCSB? I chose UCSB because of the energetic and loving environment I found here. I interacted with so many people through different programs and was able to meet other individuals with similar backgrounds and interests to mine. I knew it was a place where I could flourish and discover new aspects of myself I'd never known before. Also, have you seen that beautiful beach? I live next to it!

LGBTQ Community The UCSB LGBTQIA+ community is very multi-faceted. There are so many different clubs and organizations for queer people of different identities and backgrounds, and if someone doesn't find one that matches what they're looking for, they can form it themselves! If you're having trouble, though, come into the RCSGD!
